

We met in a study area in the Village at 115 at 8:30PM. All members were present.

We started by organizing our ideas into a new table. In this table, Andrew copied over ideas from the table of all our individual ideas. He consolidated duplicate ideas (those ideated by multiple team members) together. Aryan, Adewola, and Martin associated functional and technical specs with all ideas.

Adewola kindly gave some Capri-Suns to other team members for moral support.

We then continued to Phase 2 after discussing our ideas with one another. Upon critical discussion of our most promising ideas, we listed three of the ideas which we all agreed with pursuing.

We agreed to each contribute to the following items tomorrow:

- Adewola: Concept name & meeting functional + technical specs for all three ideas
- Aryan/Andrew/Martin: System architecture & promising attributes, each member assigned to one idea.
 - Aryan: Compass
 - Martin: Glasses
 - Andrew: Headband

We planned a meeting for tomorrow morning. Andrew sent a Google calendar invite.

We adjourned the meeting at 10:18PM.
